Who can apply

- NWO Talent Program Veni is targeted at researchers who have recently obtained their PhD, whose qualities clearly exceed what is customary within their international peer group. They are at the start of their scientific career and display a striking talent for scientific research. Veni applicants must have obtained their doctorate within the last three years. The 2021 Veni round is open to researchers who meet this criterion on 1 January 2021.
- A researcher may apply for a Veni grant on a maximum of two occasions.
- Researchers from outside the Netherlands may apply.
